DR. ENGLISH ON HAWAII

Queen's Physician In Denver.

HE GIVES HIS OPINIONS

Says the Next Legislature Will Pension Liliuokalani and Talks of Honolulu.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 24.—The Republican says:

Dr. Charles Hamilton English, who has been for the last three years private physician to former Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii, declared yesterday afternoon that unless a man was a friend of "the missionary element" in Hawaii he might as well keep out of the islands.

"It is familiarly known as the 'missionary element' because all its members are descendants of missionaries who went to the islands from the United States," said the doctor at the Windsor Hotel.

"However, its day is passing. The three political parties in the islands are the Republicans, Democrats and Independents. The Independents represent the natives and will undoubtedly control both branches of the Legislature after the fall election. More than three-fourths of the voters registered are natives. The natives, too, of course, are largely in the majority. The last Congress gave equal suffrage to all.

"The natives have not forgotten the abominable labor contract law, by which a native was bound out for a term of years to a planter. If he broke his contract he was arrested and sent to prison, there to stay until he decided to return to his master. The cost of keeping him in prison was taken out of his wage and the time he spent in prison was added to the term of his original contract. Congress knocked this out, but the natives remember the law. There were others equally obnoxious. The natives will pass such legislation as will make the islands a place for common people.

"Before the present judges went into office, justice in the islands was a travesty. Justice Humphreys, when he took charge, ascertained the condition of affairs and swept the docket clean. Justice now rules in the islands.

"The next Hawaiian Legislature will undoubtedly pension the former Queen. This was proposed by Congress, but the bills did not pass. There is no question but that the natives will grant the pension. The feeling for the United States is loyal in the extreme. The natives are convinced that the United States has their interests in mind and that has been shown by the very liberal laws which were embraced in the Hawaiian bill. The former queen does not feel in the least bitter toward the United States, but on the other hand, feels great love for the American nation. She knows that annexation was the best thing for the country.

"There has been a great deal of intermarriage between the natives and the white people. This has made a race intellectually bright and progressive and has produced stalwart men and many women of remarkable beauty. The important families educate their children in the United States and among the upper class of natives you meet men and women who are splendidly educated."

Dr. English, in speaking of the manner in which "the missionary element" deals with the United States, said:

"The United States wanted to secure control of Pearl Harbor. It was planned to spend about $4,000,000 in improvements and make it the naval base for the United States. Land was assessed at from $10 to $20 an acre, but as soon as the American naval officer looked into the land and it was known what was proposed, the price jumped to $1,000 an acre. The United States simply ignored the land. 'The missionary element' stood in its own light and prevented the Government from carrying out its plan."

Dr. English is on his way to his old home in Washington, D. C. He was the physician to the former queen for three years and accompanied her to Honolulu last May. Said he:

"The health of the former queen is now very good. There was no real necessity for me to remain in Hawaii any longer to attend her and I have, therefore, resigned and am going home. I shall probably not return to Honolulu for a year."

LITTLE BUSINESS IN POLICE COURT

Judge Wilcox Settled Troubles of a Few Offenders Yesterday.

J. Anderson, a sailor who admitted that he had deserted every ship on which he had sailed for some time past, and whose record seemed to be one of drunks and idleness, was sent to the reef for a month by Judge Wilcox yesterday.

Henry Kia took the bicycle of a policeman, Kanakoa, and was up in court for having done so. He was held to the Circuit Court by Judge Wilcox.

Hana, a Kakaako woman, who was accused of selling liquor, was fined $100. The woman stated that she had not sold the liquor, but had taken money from the man Leroy who purchased it and handed it to another woman, and this woman had procured the liquor.

Pepo Montenegro, the small boy who was accused of shooting a companion, was given a lecture and then discharged.

Wong Kwai, a wealthy Chinese, was accused of a violation of the buildings regulations by beginning a structure without a permit from the superintendent. His case was continued.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

Decides to Raise Funds for the Purchase of New Books.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Andrew's Church met yesterday afternoon in the schoolroom to discuss ways and means of raising enough funds to replenish the library with new books and the church with fresh prayer books and hymnals.

It was finally decided that their efforts should take the form of an entertainment of some kind.

Some discussion ensued. Most of the ladies present were in favor of a fair. Dr. Kincaid was present, the secretary, Mrs. C. L. Crabbe, and several of the most prominent members of the church, including Mrs. Glade.
